

Telecommunications carriers and service providers – do you know your obligations?

ACMA has recently updated its Know Your Obligations guide for telecommunications carriers and service providers, including VoIP service providers.

The publication covers consumer, community, competition and technical obligations, and provides sources of information. The new edition of Know Your Obligations is now available on the ACMA website at www.acma.gov.au (go to About ACMA: Publications & research > Telecommunications publications > Telecommunications licensing).

Activity now restricted in NSW submarine cable protection zones

Two submarine cable protection zones designed to protect key communications infrastructure came into effect off the New South Wales coast on 1 October 2007. The Northern Sydney Protection Zone extends from Narrabeen beach to 40 nautical miles off shore and the Southern Sydney Protection Zone extends from Tamarama and Clovelly beaches to 30 nautical miles off shore.

Maps, zone coordinates and a brochure detailing the zones, as well as the activities that are restricted and prohibited within them, are on the ACMA website at www.acma.gov.au/subcables, or contact ACMA on telephone 1300 856 337.
