

GUEST SPEAKER ON DRUGS

During November 1979, the Tenth National Drug Law Enforcement Officers' Course was held at the Australian Police College, Manly. Each year, an overseas guest lecturer is brought to Australia to present a series of sessions and keep local drug squad officers abreast with overseas developments. The Tenth Drug Course was fortunate to have Major Viraj Jutimitta, Officer-in-Charge, National Drug Suppression Unit, Bangkok, Thailand. Major Jutimitta accepts a memento of his visit to Australia from Chief Superintendent Bill Bennett, Principal Australian Police College, with him are Chief Inspector Frank Pimm (left) and Sergeant First Class Ken Astill, New South Wales Police Drug Squad.

Playing the Policeman's Role

Recognise the two PS personnel on the right? You shouldn't, unless you know the two Crawford Productions actors who donned uniform for a forthcoming episode in the series, 'Prisoner' (Sergeant, tell that man to have a haircut!)

CANBERRA CONSTABLES 'WEDLOCKED'

Australian Police Commissioners Meet

This historic photograph was taken in Canberra at a meeting of all Australian Police commissioners early in December. From left to right: Mr V. MacDonald (Deputy Commissioner, Queensland), Mr R. McAulay (Northern Territory); Mr S. Miller (Victoria); Mr G. Leitch (Western Australia); Mr M. Robinson (Tasmania); Mr J. Lees (New South Wales); Sir Colin Woods (AFP); Mr L. Draper (South Australia).
