

website up and running: access to NELA publications for NELA members in 2002

GREAT NEWS!!

The NELA Website has been recommissioned and can be found at www.nela.org.au

Please visit the site, have a look around and email us any suggestions or feedback.

As part of the enhancement of services to members web access to both the NELA Bulletin and the NELA Review will soon be possible. Currently members have the option of receiving both publications in hard copy and this option will remain.

Members may elect to receive electronic copies of the Bulletin direct to their e-mail by advising the Secretariat of their wish and appropriate e-mail address. Members may shortly elect to forgo either their hardcopy or direct e-mail copy of the Bulletin and draw it directly from the webpage, if electing this option would you please advise the Secretariat to obviate waste on printing and postage.

We also plan for member to be able to elect to access their copy of the NELA Review directly from the website either in addition to, or as a substitute for the hardcopy edition. However, access will require the use of a Username and Password. These will be controlled and issued by the Secretariat. Access will of course be conditional upon continued financial membership of NELA and passwords will be periodically amended to maintain the integrity and financial capacity of the Association.

Members wishing to participate in the Web access to the NELA Review are requested to advise the Secretariat either by e-mail or hardcopy of their wishes in the following format:

- Name:
- Address:
- Membership No: ( if known)
- Web Access - In addition to hardcopy or In lieu of hardcopy.
- Username and Passwords will be provided by return mail.
