

WA's special librarian of the year

Penny Tinsley describes the presentation

THE 1992 West Australian award for an outstanding contribution to the library profession by a Special Librarian was presented at a dinner at Arteka's restaurant last August. The criteria included a willingness to share professional expertise and to participate in formal and informal networking activities; evidence of good management practices; and successful promotion of the library or information service resulting in the achievement of a high profile within the parent organisation.

RAECO, who sponsor the award, have provided a magnificent jarrah trophy in the shape of Western Australia, and a personal miniature trophy, as well as a substantial book token.

The 1992 award winner is Jill Maughan, Chief Librarian for the WA Department of Agriculture. Jill has a long track record of achievements for the special library and information world. Her association with ALIA goes back to 1957 and with Special Libraries to 1963. Jill is respected and well known in WA and her selection as this year's winner was received with great pleasure by the profession. The trophies and prizes were presented to Jill Maughan by RAECO WA Area Manager, Roger Stanton. ■
