Fill in that ALIP questionnaire!

The last issue of inCite carried a questionnaire (on p 27) for a new directory Australian Library and Information People (ALIP).

ALIP questionnaires have been mailed, through chief librarians, to all academic (including campus) libraries, high school libraries, many primary school libraries, special libraries, public library services and library schools—a total of over 5 000 libraries.

The questionnaire in inCite is intended for those not currently employed in libraries, including active/interested retirees, or for those with dilatory chief librarians.

ALIP will list librarians, paraprofessionals, library educators, consultants, information brokers, library suppliers—if it is to work as an information tool for the profession and industry it needs you to complete the questionnaire and return it to Auslib Press, PO Box 622, Blackwood SA 5051 by 30 September 1993.
