10. (1) In any case where an application for a loan is made in respect of land held under a pastoral lease and the loan is required for the purpose of erecting a dog-proof fence or vermin-proof fence or for making a fence a dog-proof fence or a vermin-proof fence, the bank may, on the recommendation of the Pastoral Board, instead of supplying fencing material, advance to the applicant a sum equal to the cost of supplying the fencing material at the port or railway station nearest the land.

(2) No sum shall be paid under this section until fencing material costing the amount of that sum has been actually utilised by the applicant in erecting the fence or making the fence a dog-proof fence or a vermin-proof fence to the satisfaction of a Government inspector.

(2) When any yearly payment required by this section is not made before the first day of May next after the day upon which the same is required to be made, that part thereof which represents principal shall bear interest, at a rate per annum being one pound per centum in excess of the fixed rate calculated from the date whereon the same became payable until actual payment, and the said interest shall be added to and form part of the yearly payment. The bank may, in any case it thinks fit, remit payment of the whole or any part of the said interest.

(3) The said yearly instalments as they become due and payable, with interest as aforesaid, may at any time be recovered by action in any court of competent jurisdiction by the bank as a debt due to the bank from the owner for the time being of the land in respect of which the loan was made.

(4) Any loan may, at the option of the owner of the land, be repaid at any time sooner than is in this Act provided, or be repaid in larger instalments.

Loans to be charge
on land.
Cf. 1938, 1980
s. 18.

12. (1) The yearly instalments payable in respect of any loan (whether the loan is made under this Act or under any repealed Act), as they become due and payable (whether before or after the commencement of this Act), and the interest thereon, shall be, and until paid, shall remain, a charge on the land in respect of which the loan is made.

(2) If any such loan was made before the commencement of this Act, the charge shall be a first charge on the land in respect of which the loan was made.

(3) If any such loan is made after the commencement of this Act in respect of any land comprised in a Crown lease or an agreement for sale and purchase with the Crown, the charge shall be a first charge on such land.

(4) If any such loan is made after the commencement of this Act in respect of any land (other than land such as is described in subsection (3)) and the mortgagee under every mortgage of the land which is registered under The Real Property Act, 1886-1936, or the Registration of Deeds Act, 1935, consents to the granting of the loan and to the charge being a first charge on the land, the charge shall be a first charge on such land. If every such mortgagee does not consent to the granting of the loan and to the charge being a first charge on the land, the charge on the land shall be subject to every mortgage of the land which is registered under The Real Property Act, 1886-1936, or, as the case may be, the Registration of Deeds Act, 1935, prior to a memorandum of the charge being indorsed or a memorial of the charge being registered as provided by section 13.

(5) Any mortgagee of any such land, upon default being made by the owner in the payment of any instalment under any loan or any interest thereon, or any part thereof, may pay the same to the bank, and any such payment when so made shall be deemed to be added to and to form part of the principal sum secured by the mortgage of the mortgagee, and shall be subject to the provisions, powers and remedies expressed or implied or exercisable in respect of the mortgage or of any debt or liability thereby secured.

13. (1) Forthwith upon any land being charged with a loan made under this Act (whether pursuant to section 12 or section 15) the bank shall give notice in writing thereof to the Registrar-General who shall indorse or cause to be indorsed on the appropriate folio of the register book or register of Crown leases a memorandum of the charge specifying the nature of the charge.

Indorsement of charge upon title.

(2) If any land is charged with any loan made under any repealed Act and a memorandum relating to such charge does not appear upon the folio of the register book or register of Crown leases relating to the land, the bank shall, within six months after the commencement of this Act, give notice in writing thereof to the Registrar-General who shall indorse or cause to be indorsed on the appropriate folio of the register book or register of Crown leases a memorandum of the charge.

(3) If any default is made in the payment of any instalment of any loan or any interest thereon, or any part thereof, the bank shall have in respect of the land referred to in the memorandum of charge, the same powers of sale as are given by The Real Property Act, 1886-1936, to a mortgagee under a mortgage in respect of which default has been made in the payment of the principal money or interest or any part thereof, and for such purpose the balance of the loan then unpaid shall be deemed to be the principal money secured by the charge.

(4) If any loan is apportioned as provided by section 14, the bank shall give notice in writing thereof to the Registrar-General who shall indorse or cause to be indorsed on the appropriate folio of the register book or register of Crown leases a memorandum of the apportionment.

(5) Upon any loan being fully repaid to the bank or upon any charge being removed from any land pursuant to section 15, the bank shall give notice in writing thereof to the Registrar-General who shall indorse or cause to be indorsed on the appropriate folio of the register book or register of Crown leases a memorandum of the removal of the charge.

(6) If any land charged with any loan is not under The Real Property Act, 1886-1936, the board shall register in the General Registry Office a memorial of the charge, apportionment thereof, or discharge thereof, as the case may be.

Loans for Fencing and Water Piping Act, 1938.

(7) The bank shall, in the cases aforesaid, pay to the Registrar-General such fees as are fixed from time to time by the Registrar-General. All such fees shall be paid to the bank by the applicant owner except in the case of the fees payable in respect of indorsements made pursuant to subsection (2).

(8) The provisions of this section shall apply notwithstanding the provisions of The Real Property Act, 1886-1936.

Apportionment of charge.

14. (1) Where any land is charged with any loan made under this Act or any repealed Act, the bank may, by notice in writing, apportion the loan charged upon the land, and any arrears thereof, between different portions of the land so charged.

(2) After a day to be fixed by the bank the respective portions of the land shall be charged as provided by section 12 with such proportion of the loan and arrears thereof, and with respect to such future instalments, together with interest at the fixed rate on the balance thereof for the time being unpaid, as is fixed by the bank but with no other portion of the loan, arrears, and future instalments and interest.

(3) The provisions of section 8 shall, mutatis mutandis, apply to any application to the bank to apportion a loan.

Transfer from one holding to another.

15. (1) Upon the application of any owner whose land is charged with any loan under this Act or any repealed Act, the bank may, by notice in writing, authorise the owner to remove the fencing material or water piping in respect of which the loan was made to any other land specified by the bank of which the applicant is the owner.

(2) In any such case the owner shall remove the fencing material or water piping and erect the fencing material upon or, as the case may be, lay down the water piping in or upon the land specified by the bank.

(3) After a day to be fixed by the bank the land in respect of which the loan was made shall cease to be charged with the loan as provided by section 12, but the land specified by the bank shall be charged with the loan as provided by section 12.

(4) The provisions of section 8 shall, mutatis mutandis, apply to any application under this section.

Provision when holding reverts to the Crown.
s. 37a.

16. (1) If any loan is made under this Act or any repealed Act in respect of any land comprised in a Crown lease or an agreement for sale and purchase with the Crown, and the lease or agreement is cancelled or is otherwise determined, no instalment of principal or interest thereon shall be required to be paid in respect of the loan which is payable during the period from the cancellation or determination of the lease or agreement until the land is again held under lease or agreement as aforesaid.

(2) Upon the land being again comprised in a Crown lease or agreement for sale and purchase with the Crown, the liability to make payments in respect of the loan shall be revived and the land shall be charged with the loan as provided by section 12. A period equal in length to the period mentioned in subsection (1) shall be added to the period within which the loan is required by or pursuant to this Act to be repaid; and every instalment of principal and interest thereon which would have been payable on some date during the period during which payment is suspended, shall be payable upon the corresponding date in the added period; and the suspension shall not alter the dates upon which the other instalments of principal and interest thereon fall due.

(3) The Treasurer may, on the recommendation of the bank, declare that no interest shall be chargeable during the period during which payment is suspended under this section. If no such declaration is made, interest at the fixed rate during the said period on the amount of the loan at the time of the cancellation or determination shall be capitalized and shall be paid to the bank within such time and upon such terms as the bank thinks fit.

(4) Upon the land being again leased or agreed to be sold and purchased as before mentioned, the owner of the land shall pay to the bank the instalments required by or pursuant to this Act or any repealed Act to be paid in respect of the loan in manner provided by this section, as if the lease or agreement aforesaid had not been cancelled or determined.

(5) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Act, the bank, on the recommendation of the Land Board, or, in the case of land held under pastoral lease, on the recommendation of the Pastoral Board, may, in any case where a lease or agreement aforesaid is cancelled or determined (whether so cancelled or determined before or after the commencement of this Act) and the land comprised therein is again held under lease or agreement as aforesaid, fix the amount which shall be paid by the owner in payment of the loan (including any arrears of instalments or interest payable before the said cancellation or determination) at an amount equal to the value of the fence or water piping, as the case may be, at the time the land is again leased or agreed to be sold. The amount so fixed shall be paid by such equal annual instalments as are fixed by the bank spread over the remainder of the term of the loan or for such other period as is fixed by the bank, together with interest at the fixed rate on the balance of the said amount for the time being unpaid. The balance (if any) between the amount of the loan and any arrears of instalments or interest, and the amount fixed as aforesaid, shall cease to be payable or recoverable.

Loans for Fencing and Water Piping Act, 1938.

(6) This section shall apply to loans made under this Act, to loans made under any repealed Act to any occupier, and to loans made under any repealed Act which by virtue of section 21 of this Act, are payable to the bank.

The bank may again dispose of the fencing material or water piping as provided by this Act or may sell the same.

(2) In any such case the amount payable under the loan shall be deemed to be reduced by the value of the fencing material or water piping so removed. For the purposes of this subsection the value aforesaid shall, if the fencing material or water piping is again disposed of for the purposes of a loan under this Act, be the amount of the loan granted in respect thereof and, if the fencing material or water piping is sold, be the amount realised from the sale, less, in each case, any costs incurred in the removal and any sale thereof.

Power of bank to fix the rate of interest on loans.
1938, 1930,
s. 31.

18. (1) The bank may, from time to time, by notice published in the Gazette, fix the annual rate of interest to be paid on loans made by the bank under this Act, and may, in like manner, annul any rate so fixed.

(2) Any rate so fixed shall come into force on the fourteenth day after the date of the Gazette in which the same is published, and shall continue in force until the fourteenth day after the date of the Gazette in which the notice annulling the same is published.

Capitalization of arrears.

19. If any payment in respect of any loan under this Act or any repealed Act is in arrear, the bank may capitalize the arrears which represent interest. In any such case the amount in arrear which represents principal and the amount so capitalized shall be paid to the bank within such time and upon such terms as the bank thinks fit.

Fees to bank.

20. Before granting any application under this Act the bank may require payment by the applicant of such inspection fees as the bank deems necessary and of any fees payable pursuant to section 13.

(3) Every such advance shall, subject to this Act, be repayable to the bank to the same amount and in the same instalments and shall bear interest at the same rate and shall be subject to the same payments as would be the case if the advance continued to be repayable to the district council or vermin board.

(4) The liability to pay the said instalments, interest and other payments shall be upon the occupier to whom the advance was made by the district council or vermin board and, if such person ceases (whether before or after the commencement of this Act) to be the occupier of the land in respect of which the advance was made, shall be upon the owner for the time being of the land in respect of which the advance was made.

(5) The provisions of this Act (so far as applicable) shall apply to every such advance as if it were a loan under this Act, and every such advance shall (so far as the provisions of this Act are applicable) be deemed to be a loan under this Act.

(6) Every district council and vermin board to which, at the commencement of this Act, any such advance was payable shall forward to the bank all records in the possession of the district council or vermin board relating to the advance.

(7) If in any case the records of any district council or vermin board do not clearly show the amount outstanding (whether of principal or interest) of any advance, the bank may, by notice in writing, fix that amount. The notice and any variation thereof made by the bank shall be final and binding upon all persons.

22. As between the bank and every district council and vermin board to which any advance or advances were repayable at the commencement of this Act, the following provisions shall apply :—

Power to
