JUSTICES.

No. 38 of 1966.

AN ACT to amend the Justices Act 1959.

[11 November 1966.]

BE it enacted by His Excellency the Governor of Tasmania, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and House of Assembly, in Parliament assembled, as follows:—

1—(1) This Act may be cited as the Justices Act 1966.

Short title and citation.

(2) The Justices Act 1959, as subsequently amended, is in this Act referred to as the Principal Act.

2 After section ninety-two A of the Principal Act the following section is inserted in Part IX:—

Power of court to disqualify motor driver on conviction for certain offences.

Cf. No. 50 of 1961 (S.A.), s. 168.

“92B—(1) Where a person is convicted by a court of petty sessions of an offence to which this section applies the court, in addition to imposing any other penalty that apart from this section could lawfully be imposed on that person, may—

- (a) order that that person be disqualified, either for a specified period or until further ordered by a court of petty sessions, for obtaining or holding a driver's licence; and
- (b) if the court by which that person is so convicted thinks fit, order that that person shall not, at the end of the period of disqualification or upon the removal of the disqualification, be granted a driver's licence unless he passes, to the satisfaction of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles, such driving test as the Registrar may direct or approve.

“(2) A court which makes an order under subsection (1) of this section may, if it is satisfied that reasonable cause exists for doing so, order that the disqualification imposed by the order shall take effect from a day or hour subsequent to the time of the making of the order.

“(3) Where an order is made under this section requiring a person who is disqualified for obtaining or holding a driver's licence to pass a driving test, that person's disqualification continues until the expiration or removal of the disqualification or the passing of the test, whichever last occurs.

“(4) Section thirty-six B of the Traffic Act 1925 applies in relation to a conviction for an offence to which this section applies as it applies to such a conviction as is referred to in subsection (1) of that section.

“(5) In this section—

‘driver's licence’ means a driver's licence issued under the provisions of the Traffic Act 1925;

‘motor vehicle’ means a motor vehicle as defined in the Traffic Act 1925;

‘offence to which this section applies’ means—

(a) an indictable offence referred to in section seventy-one in respect of which justices may, as provided in that section, proceed to try the offender (being an offence in the commission of which a motor vehicle was used or the commission of which was facilitated by the use of a motor vehicle); and

(b) an offence against section thirty-two of the Traffic Act 1925.”
