SUPERANNUATION.

No. 87 of 1963.

AN ACT to amend the Superannuation Act 1938. [17 December 1963.]

BE it enacted by His Excellency the Governor of Tasmania, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and House of Assembly, in Parliament assembled, as follows:—

Short title and citation.

1—(1) This Act may be cited as the Superannuation Act 1963.

(2) The Superannuation Act 1938, as subsequently amended, is in this Act referred to as the Principal Act.

Interpretation.

2 Section three of the Principal Act is amended—

(a) by omitting from subsection (1) thereof the definition of “Actuary” and substituting therefor the following definitions:—

“ ‘Actuary’ means—

(a) the Commonwealth Actuary; or

(b) some other person, being a Fellow of the Institute of Actuaries (London) or of the Faculty of Actuaries (Edinburgh), who is appointed by the Governor as the Actuary for the purposes of this Act;

“ ‘ Commonwealth Actuary ’ means the person for the time being holding the office of Commonwealth Actuary in the Public Service of the Commonwealth; ”;

(b) by inserting in the definition of “ Contributor ” in that subsection the following definition:—

“ ‘ Contributor for full benefits ’ means a contributor whose contributions entitle him, in addition to any other benefits to which he is entitled under this Act, to a pension in the event of his being retired or permitted to retire, before reaching the age for retirement, on the ground of invalidity not due to his own fault; ”;

(c) by inserting in the definition of “ Employee ” in that subsection, after the word “ includes ”, the words “ any police officer appointed as such on or after the first day of January 1964, and ”;

(d) by inserting in that definition, after the words “ public hospital ”, the words “ or by the Schools Board of Tasmania pursuant to subsection (1) of section forty-six C of the Education Act 1932 ”;

(e) by omitting from that definition the words “ the members of the Police Force for whose benefit the Police Provident Fund is applicable ” and substituting therefor the words “ any police officer appointed as such before the first day of January 1964 who does not exercise the right of election conferred on him by section forty-two B; ”;

(f) by inserting after that definition the following definition:—

“ ‘ Police officer ’ means a police officer as defined in the Police Regulation Act 1898; ”;

(g) by omitting from that subsection the definition of “ The age for retirement ” and substituting therefor the following definition:—

“ ‘ The age for retirement ’ means—

(a) in relation to a person to whom Part VA applies (as defined in that Part) or a person who is appointed as a police officer on or after the first day of January 1964, the age of sixty years; and

(b) in any other case the age of—

- (i) sixty-five years, in the case of a male; or
- (ii) sixty years, in the case of a female;” and

(h) by adding at the end thereof the following subsection:—

“(3) For the purposes of this Act, where a person is appointed on probation to an office or position in the service of the State or of a State instrumentality and—

(a) immediately before being so appointed, that person is a contributor; or

(b) at the time at which he is so appointed that person is residing outside the State and is not a contributor to a fund that is a prescribed superannuation fund for the purposes of section sixty-one A, that person shall, during the period of probation, be deemed to be an employee and eligible or required, as the case may be, to make contributions to the Fund.”.

Vacation of office of members of Board.

3 Section twelve of the Principal Act is amended by omitting from paragraph II thereof the word “Governor” (first occurring) and substituting therefor the word “Minister”.

Commencement and cessation of employees' contributions.

4 Section eighteen of the Principal Act is amended—

(a) by inserting in subsection (9), after the word “contributor”, the words “for full benefits”; and

(b) by inserting after that subsection the following subsection:—

“(9A) An employee to whom subsection (9) of this section applies shall not become a contributor for full benefits unless the Board is satisfied, after considering the opinion of the medical practitioner referred to in that subsection, that the health and physical condition of the employee are such as to justify his being accepted as such a contributor.”.

Units for which employees shall or may contribute.

5 Section twenty-one of the Principal Act is amended—

(a) by inserting in subsection (2) thereof, after the word “person”, the words “(being a male or an unmarried female)”;

(b) by inserting after that subsection the following subsection:—

“(2A) In the case of a person (being a married female) appointed after the commencement of this Act, the Board may, in its discretion—

(a) at the time of her appointment; or

(b) if she becomes a contributor, at any time thereafter, exempt her from contribution under this Act, or reduce the number of units for which, but for this subsection, she would be required or entitled to contribute, and the Board may make such adjustments and refunds as it may think necessary to give effect to the provisions of this subsection.”;

(c) by inserting after subsection (3) thereof the following subsections:—

“(3A) Where—

- (a) a contributor who is entitled to exercise a right of election under subsection (3) of this section (in this subsection referred to as ‘the first election’) does not exercise that right; and
- (b) that contributor, by reason of a subsequent increase of salary, becomes again entitled to exercise such a right of election (in this subsection referred to as ‘the further election’), then, notwithstanding any other provision of this Act, the additional number of units for which the contributor may contribute by reason of that increase of salary shall not exceed a number of units that is equal to the difference between—

- (c) the maximum number of units assigned by the scale set forth in section twenty to the salary group within which his salary fell at the time when the first election could have been made; and
- (d) the maximum number of units assigned by that scale to the salary group within which his salary falls at the time at which he becomes entitled to make the further election, unless the Board, pursuant to subsection (7) of this section, permits him to contribute for a greater number of units.

“(3B) Where a contributor—

- (a) by reason of successive increases of salary, becomes entitled, on more occasions than one, to exercise the right of election conferred on him by subsection (3) of this section; and

(b) does not exercise that right on any of those occasions, the right of election that he might have exercised on the last of those occasions shall, for the purposes of that subsection, be deemed to be the first election within the meaning of that subsection, and the provisions of that subsection shall be construed accordingly.”;

(d) by omitting from subsection (7) thereof the words “male employee not over sixty, or any female employee not over fifty-five, years of age,” and substituting therefor the word “employee”; and

(e) by omitting subsection (10) thereof and substituting therefor the following subsection:—

“(10) An employee whose first contributions commence or have commenced after the thirtieth day of September 1947 may, within one month after—

(a) the date on which his first contributions commence; or

(b) the date on which he first receives payment of salary at a rate exceeding three hundred and twenty-five pounds a year, or within such further time as the Board, in special circumstances, may allow, elect to contribute for not less than eight units or more than the maximum number of units assigned by the scale set forth in section twenty to the salary group within which his salary falls at the time when he makes that election.”.

6 Section twenty-five of the Principal Act is repealed and the following section is substituted therefor:—

Tables of contributions.

“25—(1) The tables of contributions set forth in Parts I and II of the first schedule apply to male and female employees respectively (not being employees who are police officers) in respect of all units of pension entered on or granted to them before the first day of October 1946.

“(2) Until other tables are prescribed as provided in subsection (3) of this section—

(a) the tables of contributions set forth in Parts III and IV of the first schedule apply, as from the first day of October 1946, to male and female employees respectively (not being employees who are police officers) in respect of all units of pension entered on or granted to them on or after that day; and

- (b) the tables of contributions set forth in Parts IIIA and IV of that schedule apply to male police officers and female police officers respectively in respect of all units of pension entered on or granted to them otherwise than in pursuance of the provisions of subsection (2) or subsection (3) of section forty-two C.

“(3) After the expiration of each period of five years from the appointed day, the Governor may, on the recommendation of the Board, by regulation prescribe tables of contributions in lieu of all or any of the tables of contributions for the time being in force for the purposes of subsection (2) of this section, and a table so prescribed shall take effect as from such date as may be prescribed.”.

7 Section twenty-nine of the Principal Act is amended— Qualified pension: When payable.

- (a) by omitting paragraph II of subsection (1) thereof and substituting therefor the following paragraph:—

“II Having reached the prescribed age elects to retire,”; and

- (b) by adding at the end thereof the following subsection:—

“(6) In subsection (1) of this section, ‘prescribed age’ means—

(a) in relation to a contributor who is a police officer, the age of fifty-five years; and

(b) in any other case—

(i) sixty years, in the case of a male contributor; or

(ii) fifty-five years, in the case of a female contributor.”.

8 Section thirty-three of the Principal Act is amended by omitting from subsection (1) thereof the word “Pension” and substituting therefor the words “Except as provided in subsection (4) of section forty-two F, pension”. Widows' pensions.

9 Section thirty-nine of the Principal Act is amended— Miscellaneous provisions as to pensions.

- (a) by omitting subsections (3) and (4) thereof; and

(b) by omitting from subsection (6) thereof the word “Pensions” and substituting therefor the words “Subject to section thirty-nine A, pensions”.

10 After section thirty-nine of the Principal Act the following section is inserted:—

“39A—(1) Pensions shall be paid in fortnightly instalments. Payment of pension instalments.

“(2) In order to ascertain the amount of a pension covering a period of a fortnight, the annual pension shall be divided by twenty-six.”.

11 After section forty-two of the Principal Act the following Parts are inserted:—

“ PART VA.

“ SPECIAL PROVISIONS IN RELATION TO CERTAIN POLICE OFFICERS.

Interpretation.

“ 42A In this Part, unless the contrary intention appears—‘ commencing day ’ means the first day of January 1964;

‘ person to whom this Part applies ’ means a police officer—

(a) from whose salary sums were, immediately before that day, being deducted pursuant to section forty-three of the Police Regulation Act 1898; and

(b) who exercises the right of election conferred on him by section forty-two B.

Right of
police officers to elect to contribute to the Fund.

“ 42B—(1) A person who, immediately before the commencing day, is a police officer and is under the age of sixty years on that day may, within three months after that day, by notice in writing given to the Police Provident Fund Board, elect to make contributions to the Fund.

“(2) As soon as practicable after receipt of a notice under subsection (1) of this section, the Police Provident Fund Board shall notify the Board that the person by whom the notice was given has exercised his right of election under this section and pay over to the Board, on behalf of that person, an amount equal to the total of the deductions made from his salary pursuant to section forty-three of the Police Regulation Act 1898 up to the thirty-first day of December 1963, together with all accumulations of interest thereon calculated up to that date.

“(3) If, on the thirty-first day of December 1963, the amount standing to the credit in the Police Provident Fund of a person who exercises the right of election conferred on him by this section exceeds the amount required by subsection (2) of this section to be paid over, on behalf of that person, to the Board, the Police Provident Fund Board shall pay to the Treasurer, to the credit of the Consolidated Revenue, a sum equal to the amount of that excess.

“(4) Where a person exercises the right of election conferred on him by this section—

(a) the election has effect, for all purposes, as if it were made on; and

(b) the contributions to the Fund required by virtue of this Part to be made by that person are payable as from the first pay-day occurring after, the thirty-first day of December 1963.

“(5) For the purposes of this Act, the sum paid over to the Board pursuant to this section on behalf of a person to whom this Part applies shall be deemed to be contributions made by that person to the Fund.

“42C—(1) A person to whom this Part applies—

- (a) shall be deemed to be an employee; and
- (b) is liable to contribute to the Fund as provided in this section.

Rights and obligations of persons to whom this Part applies.

“(2) If the sum paid over to the Board, pursuant to section forty-two B, on behalf of a person to whom this Part applies—

- (a) exceeds the ascertained amount—
 - (i) the Board shall refund to that person the amount of the excess; and
 - (ii) that person shall contribute for a number of units equal to the permissible maximum number of units; or
- (b) is equal to or less than the ascertained amount—
 - (i) the Board shall retain the sum so paid over; and
 - (ii) that person shall contribute for—

(A) a number of units equal to the permissible maximum number of units; or

(B) such number of units (including, where necessary, fractions of units) as the Board, after consultation with the Actuary, determines is equivalent to the number of units (including, where necessary, fractions of units) for which that person could contribute if that sum represented contributions to the Fund based on a retiring age of sixty years and if the future contributions of that person were made at an annual rate equal to seven and one-half per cent of the amount of his annual salary as at the commencing day, whichever is the lesser number of units.

“(3) If the number of units for which a person is required to contribute by virtue of the provisions of sub-paragraph (ii) of paragraph (b) of subsection (2) of this section is less than the permissible maximum number of units, that person may, within three months after the commencing day, by notice in writing to the Board, elect to contribute for such additional number of units (including, where necessary, fractions of units) as he thinks fit, but so that the total number of units for which he thereby becomes liable to contribute—

- (a) does not exceed the permissible maximum number of units; and
- (b) comprises a whole number of units.

“(4) The contributions to be made to the Fund by a person to whom this Part applies—

- (a) in a case to which paragraph (a) of subsection (2) of this section or clause (A) of sub-paragraph

(ii) of paragraph (b) of that subsection applies, shall be at such rates as the Actuary determines; or

- (b) in a case to which clause (B) of sub-paragraph (ii) of paragraph (b) of that subsection applies, shall be at an annual rate equal to seven and one-half per cent of the amount of the annual salary of that person as at the commencing day.

“(5) Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this section, where a person to whom this Part applies was, on the date of the commencement of this Act, of or over the age of thirty years and was a police officer on that date, the rate of his contributions in respect of eight of the units for which he is required, by virtue of those provisions, to contribute shall be at the rate prescribed for the age of thirty, and those provisions shall be construed accordingly.

“(6) Where a person exercises the right of election conferred on him by subsection (3) of this section to contribute for additional units of pension, he shall pay to the Board, in relation to those units—

- (a) such lump sum;
(b) such additional contributions, at such rate; or
(c) such sum together with such contributions, at such rate, as the Actuary may determine.

“(7) The provisions of subsections (9) and (9A) of section eighteen do not apply to or in relation to any person to whom this Part applies in respect of any units entered on or granted to him in pursuance of subsection (2) or subsection (3) of this section.

“(8) Where a person exercises the right of election conferred upon him by section forty-two B, that person ceases, as from the thirty-first day of December 1963, to be entitled to any benefits from, or to be required to make any payment to, the Police Provident Fund, and if any deductions are made from that person's salary pursuant to section forty-three of the Police Regulation Act 1898 after that day and before the day on which he exercises that right of election, the Police Provident Fund Board shall refund to that person the sum of all deductions so made.

“(9) Notwithstanding anything in Part VI, for the purpose of computing the amount of any payment to be made pursuant to that Part to a person to whom this Part applies, the period of service in respect of which that payment accrues is the period beginning on the day on which that person was appointed as a police officer and ending on the thirty-first day of December 1963.

“(10) If, after a person exercises the right of election conferred on him by section forty-two B, that person through increase of salary comes into a higher salary group, the provisions of subsection (3) of section twenty-one apply to and in relation to that person and his contributions to the Fund.

“(11) In this section—

- ‘ascertained amount’ means the amount calculated in accordance with the formula set forth in the fourth schedule;
- ‘permissible maximum number of units’, used in relation to a person, means the maximum number of units assigned by the scale set forth in section twenty to the salary group within which that person’s salary falls on the commencing day.

“ PART VB.

“ SPECIAL PROVISIONS IN RELATION TO LIMITED BENEFITS FOR CERTAIN EMPLOYEES.

“ 42D In this Part, unless the contrary intention appears— Interpretation.

- ‘commencing day’ means the date of the commencement of the Superannuation Act 1963;
- ‘person to whom this Part applies’ means a person who is a contributor for limited benefits as provided in this Part.

“ 42E A person who—

- (a) on the commencing day is, or at any time thereafter becomes, an employee within the meaning of this Act;
- (b) by reason of the operation of subsection (9) or subsection (9A) of section eighteen, is ineligible to become a contributor for full benefits; and
- (c) has undergone such medical examination as the Board requires for the purposes of this section and the Board is satisfied that the state of health of that person is such that he has reasonable prospects of being able to continue in the performance of his duties until he attains the age for retirement,

Contributors
for limited benefits.

shall become a contributor for limited benefits as provided in this Part, and shall accordingly make contributions to the Fund in accordance with the provisions of Part IV.

“ 42F—(1) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Act—

- (a) a person who becomes a contributor for limited benefits is entitled only to—
 - (i) the benefits specified in this section; and
 - (ii) the benefit of the provisions of section twenty-nine (so far as those provisions become applicable to him), and to no other benefits under this Act; and
- (b) the widow (if any) of such a contributor is entitled only to—
 - (i) a payment under subsection (4) of this section, in the event of the death of the contributor before he attains the age for retirement; or

Rights and obligations of contributors of
for limited benefits and their dependants.

(ii) a pension under Division II of Part V, in the event of the death of the contributor after he attains that age, and to no other benefits under this Act.

“(2) In the event of the death of a contributor for limited benefits after he attains the age for retirement, the same children’s pensions are payable under and in accordance with Division III of Part V as if he had been a contributor for full benefits.

“(3) A person who becomes a contributor for limited benefits—

(a) if he retires or is permitted to retire, before attaining the age for retirement, on the ground of invalidity not due to his own fault—

(i) is entitled to a refund of his contributions, together with interest thereon at the prescribed rate of interest; and

(ii) subject to the provisions of Part VI, is entitled to an allowance under section three of the Public Servants’ Retiring and Death Allowances Act 1925;

(b) is entitled to a refund of the amount of his contributions (without interest) if, by reason of his resignation or dismissal, he ceases to be an employee; and

(c) is entitled, on attaining the age for retirement, to a pension of the number of units for which he is then a contributor.

“(4) In the event of the death before attaining the age for retirement of a contributor for limited benefits, the Board shall—

(a) in the case of a male contributor, pay to the widow (if any) or to the personal representatives; or

(b) in the case of a female contributor, pay to the personal representatives, of the deceased contributor, or in either case, if the Board considers it desirable so to do, to such other person as the Board may determine, a sum equal to the prescribed amount.

“(5) Subject to the provisions of Part VI, in the event of the death of a contributor for limited benefits before he attains the age for retirement, there is payable in relation to that contributor an allowance under section four of the Public Servants’ Retiring and Death Allowances Act 1925.

“(6) A person who becomes a contributor for limited benefits—

(a) is subject to the provisions of subsection (3) of section twenty-one in the event of his salary being increased at any time after he becomes such a contributor; and

- (b) if at any time after he becomes such a contributor he furnishes evidence to the satisfaction of the Board that his health and physical condition are such as to justify him being accepted as a contributor for full benefits, he is entitled to become such a contributor.

“(7) In this section—

‘prescribed amount’ means a sum equal to the sum of a contributor’s total contributions to the Fund as at the date of his death, together with (in the case of a payment to the widow of a deceased contributor or to his personal representatives on behalf of his children but in no other case) all accumulations of interest thereon calculated at the prescribed rate of interest;

‘prescribed rate of interest’ means such rate (being not less than three and one-half per cent) compounded annually as the Board may determine from year to year.”.

12 Section forty-three of the Principal Act is amended by omitting subsection (3) thereof and substituting therefor the following subsection:—

Application of the Public Servants' Retiring and Death Allowances Act 1925.

“(3) The provisions of the said Act do not apply to an employee appointed after the commencement of this Act, except where he failed to qualify for pension by reason of—

- (a) the operation of subsection (9) or subsection (9A) of section eighteen; or
- (b) the fact that the Board granted him total exemption from making contributions to the Fund on the ground that, owing to his age at entry, the making of contributions would be a hardship.”.

13 Section forty-seven of the Principal Act is amended by omitting from subsection (2) thereof the words “half-pension to his widow” and substituting therefor the words “pension to his widow at the rate of two-thirds of the pension to which the employee is entitled”.

Alternative mode of payment.

14 Section fifty-seven of the Principal Act is amended by omitting from subsection (3) thereof the words “be in accordance with such annuity tables as may be prescribed” and substituting therefor the words “consist of such amounts as may be determined by the Actuary”.

Employees' rights in respect of deposits.

15 Section sixty-one of the Principal Act is amended by omitting from subsection (2) thereof the word “month” (twice occurring) and substituting therefor, in each case, the word “fortnight”.

Pensions of employees of State instrumentalities.

Provisions relating to contributions by transferred employees.

16 Section sixty-one A of the Principal Act is amended by inserting after subsection (1) thereof the following subsection:—

“(1A) The contributions to the Fund made by an employee pursuant to subsection (1) of this section shall be for units at the rates respectively appropriate to the ages at which he was contributing to the prescribed superannuation fund to which he was contributing immediately before becoming an employee.”.

17 After section sixty-one A of the Principal Act the following section is inserted:—

False declarations, &c.

“61B—(1) No contributor or pensioner shall—

- (a) in any certificate, return, declaration, or other document given or sent to, or lodged with, the Board by or on behalf of that person for any of the purposes of this Act, knowingly furnish any information as to his age or the state of his health that is false or misleading; or
- (b) for the purposes of any medical examination required to be undergone by him under this Act, knowingly furnish the medical practitioner by whom the examination is made with any information as to the state of his health or his medical history that is false or misleading.

Penalty: Fifty pounds.

“(2) If a contributor or pensioner is convicted of an offence against this section, the Board may—

- (a) in the case of a contributor, order—
 - (i) that he shall forthwith cease to be a contributor and that he shall be ineligible, either permanently or for such time as the Board may determine, to make contributions to the Fund; or
 - (ii) if his contributions have not commenced, that he be ineligible to commence contributions either permanently or for such time as the Board may determine; or
- (b) in the case of a pensioner, order that his pension be cancelled forthwith and that no refund of his contributions be made to him.

“(3) If the Board, pursuant to this section, orders that a contributor shall cease to be a contributor, it shall make to him a refund of his contributions.”.

Determination of questions under Act.

18 Section sixty-two of the Principal Act is amended by inserting in subsection (7) thereof, after the word “decision” (wherever occurring), the words “, determination, or order”.

19 Section sixty-three of the Principal Act is amended— Re-employment of employees who have retired.

(a) by omitting subsection (2) thereof and substituting therefor the following subsection:—

“(2) If—

(a) suitable employment in the service of the State is offered to a pensioner to whom subsection (1) of this section relates at a salary not less than three-fourths of the salary then appropriate to the grade or position that he held at the time of his retirement;

(b) he accepts a position as an employee at a lower salary; or

(c) he engages in—

(i) employment otherwise than in the service of the State; or

(ii) any business or occupation on his own account, the Board may, if it thinks fit, cancel the pension payable to that pensioner or reduce the amount thereof to any amount that, in its opinion, the circumstances of the case warrant, or suspend that pension for such period, or until the happening of such event, as the Board determines.”;

(b) by omitting paragraph IV of subsection (3) thereof;

(c) by omitting subsections (4) and (5) thereof; and

(d) by omitting from subsection (10A) thereof the words “or performs those duties” and substituting therefor the words “or, as the case may be, during the period (if any) in excess of three months in any one year during which he performs those duties”.

20 Section sixty-eight of the Principal Act is amended by Regulations. omitting from subsection (1) thereof all the words after the word “Act” to the end of that subsection.

21 The first schedule to the Principal Act is amended by The first schedule. inserting after Part III thereof the following Part:—

“ PART IIIA.

The third schedule.

22 The third schedule to the Principal Act is amended by inserting therein, before the words “The Assistant Commissioners for Forests”, the words “The Agent-General”.

New fourth schedule.

23 The Principal Act is amended by adding at the end thereof the following schedule:—

“ THE FOURTH SCHEDULE.

“(Section 42c (10).)

“ CALCULATION OF THE ASCERTAINED AMOUNT FOR THE PURPOSES OF SECTION FORTY-TWO C.

“1. The ascertained amount in relation to any person for the purposes of section forty-two C shall be calculated in accordance with the following formula:—

$$A = \frac{B}{C} \times D.$$

“2. For the purposes of the formula set forth in paragraph 1 of this schedule—

A means the ascertained amount;

B means the maximum number of units assigned by the scale set forth in section twenty to the salary group within which the person’s salary falls on the first day of January 1964;

C means the number of units (including, where necessary, fractions of units) determined by the Board to be the number of units for which the person could have contributed if the sums from time to time deducted from his salary pursuant to section forty-three of the Police Regulation Act 1898 had been contributions to the Fund based on an age for retirement of sixty years; and

D means the amount required by subsection (2) of section forty-two B to be paid over to the Board on behalf of the person."

24 The sections of the Principal Act that are specified in the first column of the schedule to this Act are amended as respectively specified in the second column of that schedule.

Consequential amendments.

25—(1) On and after the date of the reprinting of the Principal Act—

Adaptation of amendments to reprint of Principal Act.

- (a) this Act is to have effect subject to the modifications specified in subsection (2) of this section; and
- (b) the Principal Act, as amended by this Act, shall be construed accordingly.

(2) On and after the date referred to in subsection (1) of this section—

- (a) section three of this Act is to have effect as if the symbol "II" were omitted therefrom and the symbol "(b)" were substituted therefor;
- (b) section seven of this Act is to have effect as if the symbol "II" (wherever occurring) were omitted therefrom and the symbol "(c)" were substituted therefor, in each case; and
- (c) section nineteen of this Act is to have effect as if from paragraph (b) thereof the symbol "IV" were omitted and the symbol "(d)" were substituted therefor.

(3) The Principal Act and this Act are, by force of this subsection, amended to such extent as may be necessary to give effect to the foregoing provisions of this section.

(4) Subject to this section, the provisions of this Act remain in full force and effect as if this section had not been enacted.
