2 The Cressy Water Act, 1894, is hereby amended—

- I. By inserting the figure “(1)” before the word “The” at the beginning of Section Fifty-six thereof and by adding at the end of that section the following new Subsection (2):—

“(2) For the purposes of this Act the expression ‘domestic purposes’ shall mean the use of water on the premises of any dwelling-house by the owner or occupier thereof and his family, servants, and workmen for the purposes of drinking, cooking, personal ablution, including baths; flushing urinals and water closets; washing and cleansing such dwelling-house and all articles used therein for personal use or in connection with housekeeping; and for washing and cleansing any yard, outhouse, stable, garage, or other outbuilding used in connection therewith, or any motor-car other than a motor-car used in connection with any trade or business or which is washed or cleansed in the course of any trade or business.”:

- II. By repealing Section Fifty-eight thereof and substituting therefor the following new Section Fifty-eight:—

“58—(1) The trustees, if they think fit, may furnish to any person a supply of water for any purpose other than domestic purposes.

(2) Any such supply may be furnished at such charges and upon such terms and conditions as may be prescribed, or, where the same are not prescribed, as the trustees and the person to whom the supply is furnished may agree.

(3) As far as practicable, the supply of water, as provided by this section, shall be at uniform rates in all cases where the conditions are alike.”:

- III. By deleting the words “a dwelling-house on” in the sixth line of Section Sixty-two thereof and substituting therefor the words “the outer boundary of”: and

- IV. By inserting after Section Eighty-seven thereof the following new Section 87a:—

“87a—(1) The trustees, at any time, by resolution, may limit the hours during which water may be used for garden purposes, either generally or in respect of any specified part of the water district, and may fix different hours for different parts thereof, and either generally or for specified
