2 The Principal Act is hereby amended by inserting therein after Section Eight the following new Section 8a :—

“8a—(1) Every licensee shall keep all second-hand articles and goods bought or received by him for a period of not less than three days after he receives the same, before he sells, disposes of, or parts with the possession of the same, or alters the form or condition thereof in any manner whatsoever.

(2) No person shall use, melt, cut, or otherwise alter the form or condition of, any second-hand articles or goods bought by him, for the purpose of manufacturing, renovating, altering, or repairing any articles or goods for sale, or of repairing or altering any goods in the way of trade, until the expiration of not less than three days after such second-hand articles or goods have been received by him.

(3) If any such licensee or other person as aforesaid shall receive a notice in writing from a member of the Police Force with respect to any such articles or goods as aforesaid therein specified requiring him to keep the same for a longer period than three days, he shall keep the same in manner herein provided for such further period, not exceeding four days, as may be specified in such notice.

(4) During the period for which any such articles or goods are required by this section to be so kept as aforesaid, the same shall be kept separate and apart from all other goods of the same kind and description, and shall not be allowed to be or become mixed or confused therewith.

(5) This section shall not apply to any goods which have been advertised for sale by auction and have been sold at public auction in pursuance of such advertisement to such licensee or person as aforesaid.

(6) Every person contravening the provisions of this section shall be liable to a penalty of Ten Pounds.”
