

F O R E W O R D

After many regrettable delays the second number of the Victoria University College Law Review is now issued. We apologise to our readers and subscribers for these delays. It is our hope that henceforth the Review may appear with some degree of regularity.

The publication of articles written by staff members has been deferred, as we wish to place on record in this issue of the Review the tributes paid to our former Dean and colleague, Professor R.O. McGechan. A memorial prize bearing his name is to be awarded annually for the best student contribution to this Review. This will fittingly commemorate his name and work, for it was on his initiative that this Review was founded.

July 1, 1955.

I. D. CAMPBELL
Dean of the Faculty of Law.
